CHRISTMAS

WE'LL be at home for Christmas rings more truly than any of the other popular ideas associated with this day. Most of the other popular Christmas ideas are not specifically Christian, and you can share them without being a Christian, even as you could share the yule log, feasting, light and fun in England, centuries before Christ. The association of home with a midwinter festival is obvious: the worse the weather the greater the attraction of the home lights beckoning the traveller through the snowy forest. But the association of home with the Christian Christmas is something deeper and more subtle.

'Home' is a strange paradox. Something to be got away from, as the lust of travel grips the adventurer and entices him away to strange lands and new experiences. And yet, something without which travel and adventure seem pointless, for as Odysseus saw centuries ago, a journey however long, as soon as it begins, becomes a journey towards home, gathering on the way experiences with which to enrich the return, tales to tell the family, riches to share around. Does this give us some idea of the true meaning of Christmas?

What is the real Christmas? The central event of world history. All before it is B.C., all after it is A.D. The event which altered all things. An interference, utter and complete, with history's course. An explosion so great that the pieces from it will never cease to scatter. An event which set up in mankind a tension compared with which the tension of home versus adventure is as nothing. An event which so affects all things, that the ringing of bells in east and west, in changes, carillons, unmusical clashes, or in any other way, to the strangely mingled elation and irritation of hundreds of millions, seems an obvious by-product of it.

Christmas: the event to which all history looked forward. For all history is concerned with the perfecting of mankind. The crown of creation, evolving by long, slow stages from something primitive, yet evolving to what? The grander man, the crown of creation, became, the greater were his possibilities for evil. History is one long record of man's powers for evil growing greater. History, as the Old Testament views it, is a record of man driving himself out of Eden, murdering his brother, drowning deservedly in a flood, continuing in evil, lust, hatred, reducing his religion to a cult of evil sacrifice. Then at last a new breath of fresh air sweeps in. The Prophets expect a change. Others long for it also. Then at last, into history, the record of evil man longing for something better and unable to produce it on his own, there breaks the vision of perfection. Man as he should and can be. Man, perfect in desire, in power, in achievement, in humility; the Light in the darkness.

The moment this happens, there comes into all life a tension far greater than ever before. The goodness in man feels overwhelmingly attracted to it. In the presence of the Christ Child man feels at home; his arduous journey towards satisfaction accomplished, his best desires satisfied, his ambitions given a worthwhile exercise. Yet the badness in man feels repelled by it; he cannot stand this perfection; he must escape from it, destroy it, do anything to counteract this banishment of his freedom. This tension begins the first Christmas night and it must go on so long as the world lasts. Shepherds and wise men come, attracted to ennoble their gifts and their wisdom here in man's true home. Ambitious Herods will stop at nothing to try and banish the idea. So from Christ's birth the rest of His earthly life-story becomes inevitable. Disciples long to give Him their whole lives. Others, for every varied reason that man's evil nature can devise, must expel Him from life. Where Herod the Great failed, Caiaphas got Him in the end—so men thought.

But it was not so. Man's conquest paled before Christ's conquest of death with life, of evil by goodness. So the tension of Christmas has not vanished into history, like that between King and Parliament three hundred years ago. It continues and must for ever continue on earth. It is intimate within us all today. Christ repels many, all the more strongly because His deepest nature attracts them. Why do our fellow workers in factories, etc., rag us off when they find we go to church and ring, whilst if we took up some other unusual activity, like collecting spiders, they would not bother to do so? Because the tension of perfection, attracting all men home, yet challenging them to break away and be free, is as real today as ever. 'What have we to do with Thee, Jesus . . . art Thou come to torment us before the time?' cried the evil spirits. Christ's Spirit spreads in every land, conquering evil, leading men to do great things, yet stirring enmity everywhere. We, every one, feel His power in both directions. We feel forced to admire, to come to Him in worship and reflect Him in service, yet we often feel a strange resentment expressing itself in irrelevant ways which are interesting to analyse. The Rev. X. produces a different dislike from that which Mr. X. produces. We find it harder to say the Confession than to sing 'Fight the good fight.' Church bells irritate in a quite different way from any other public sound. The only way to resolve the Christmas tension in ourselves is so to learn to share the life of the Christ Child, His love, His humility, His powerless power, that our adventurous love of the world and of freedom is swallowed up in the joy of being at home with the Power which is love and which longs for us all even as we truly long for Him.

SHEFFIELD & DISTRICT SOCIETY

The last monthly meeting of the year was held at Rawmarsh on December 3rd when, unfortunately, the attendance was below average for the district. The bells were rung up soon after 3 p.m. and good use was made of the ringing time until 5 p.m., when tea was served in the church hall.

A short business meeting was held, at which the chair was taken by Mr. N. Chaddock. Apologies for absence were received from the president (Mr. H. O. Chaddock) and the Ringing Master (Mr. J. J. L. Gilbert).

The ringers then returned to the tower, where ringing continued in a variety of methods from Plain Bob to Surprise Major, until 9 p.m.

The next meeting is due to be held at Ecclesfield on January 7th.

GOOD WISHES DESPITE PEAL FAILURES

The wedding took place at All Saints' Church, Walsoken, on December 3rd between Mr. M. R. Reed and Miss J. E. Colson, both of Wisbech.

To commemorate this event, six friends of the bridegroom, who is also a bellringer, attempted a peal at St. Leonard's Church, Leverington, but this came to an untimely end owing to the clapper parting company with the tenor bell! The same ringers met again on Dec. 10th at St. Wendreda's Church, March, and again attempted a peal, which after 2 hrs. 50 mins. was stopped, this time owing to bells being in the wrong order at the final part of the last extent.

Despite the fact that no congratulatory peal was forthcoming, the participating bellringers heartily send their best wishes for the future to Mr. and Mrs. Reed.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATIONMayoral Visit to Rochdale Branch

St. Luke's, Heywood, was the venue for the Rochdale Branch annual meeting and party on December 3rd. The bells were available from 2 o'clock but ringing did not really commence until half-past. Although the weather was bright the attendance in the afternoon was disappointing. A short service was conducted by the Rector, and the curate gave a very good address.

A very good tea followed, and not mentioning any names, some members really shine at this part of the proceedings!

The business meeting was presided over by the Branch Ringing Master, Mr. Ivan Kay. Two new members were elected, both of Rochdale Parish Church, and the Branch secretary (Mr. F. Pritchard) was re-elected for the next two years.

A whist drive was held in one room, and the large schoolroom now gradually filled and dancing was enjoyed until 11 p.m. The Mayor and Mayoress of Heywood visited the gathering and stayed to listen to the Moorside (Oldham) handbell ringers' two performances of tune-ringing.

The party was a great success and the Heywood ringers are to be congratulated for the arrangements, especially Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Mills and Mr. Alan Crabtree.

For 31 years captain and steeplekeeper of St. Mary's Church, Mr. W. B. Aldridge has left Woolwich and is now living at 24, Ruxley Close, North Clay, Kent. His departure is keenly felt by Woolwich ringers. His successor as captain and steeplekeeper is Mr. A.
Grove, sen., a nephew of the late Mr. W. G.
Grove, who conducted peals at Woolwich 65 years ago, and son of the late Mr. F. Grove, who was also a ringer at St. Mary's until he died in 1922.

Congratulations to Miss June Knight, of Bulkington, for the splendid way she rang at Chilvers Coton in the memorial peal for the late Bishop of Coventry, Dr. N. V. Gorton. It was her first attempt for a 10-bell peal.

As a welcome to the Rev. C. R. Brown, on accepting the benefice of Warfield, Berks, a peal was rung on the bells on December 10th. At the conclusion the new Vicar visited the tower and congratulated the band. He afterwards entertained them to tea.

Harbury, near Leamington Spa, bells were rung half-muffled on the day of the burial of the Bishop of Coventry. It is hoped to rehang these bells and add a treble in the near future, for which £1,400 is needed. 'Plain Bob' writes if any ringers or friends like to help the Rector would be pleased to receive any gift, large or small.

Lt.-Comdr. Instructor R. G. Cross called his son, Paul's, first quarter at Radley on December 4th. There were two other firsts in this quarter of Grandsire and Plain Bob Doubles—Sonia Allen, aged 12, and Daphne Pollard (12). The girls, with the rest of the band, are in the church choir, and on Sunday afternoons play recorders for Sunday School as there is no organist for this service.

BELFRY

GOSSIP

Meeting one short for a quarter peal of Major on December 9th, at Horbury, Yorks, Mr. H. Rowley, the 87-year-old captain, stood down but conducted from a chair.

Mr. James R. Lawson, of Chicago, has published three compositions for carillons by Clifford Ball (Bournville), one by John Gordon (Sydney, Australia) and two by Schwyn Baker (Wellington, New Zealand).

The Rev. K. W. H. Felstead writes that there have been three previous peals at North Curry, Somerset—in 1898, 1913 and 1922. All were Grandsire Triples. 'I find two previous peals of Little Bob Major in Wales—at Bridgend on August 22nd, 1928, and at Caerphilly on July 28th, 1951. There was also a peal of Tiverton
Little Bob Major at Buckley on October 18th, 1947.'

Before the Cheshire band was successful in Mr. Pitman's peal in eight spliced methods with each bell doing all the work of each method, an attempt was made at Willesden by the Middlesex ringers the night before. The band had settled down well, but after a little more than an hour a miscall by the conductor put paid to the attempt. It will probably be in January that the next attempt will be made.

Miss Lucy Allen, who conducted the 19th quarter by the present band at Brampton, Hunts, on November 23rd (1,320 Plain Bob),
has been warmly congratulated on her first peal as conductor. R. F. B. writes: 'The calls were made very confidently at the right moment, and it was evident that she was quite at ease. The time is rapidly approaching when, in the case of Lucy, the pupil will out-teach the teacher.
Given the opportunity, I see a great future for her in the ringing world.'

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

UMPIRES FOR SPLICED PEALS ADVOCATED

Dear Sir,—Anything on ringing matters from the pen of Mr. J. T. Dyke is always worthy of consideration, and he has done a service to the Exercise in drawing attention to the risk of inadvertent errors on the part of conductors of peals of Grandsire Doubles.

I am prompted by his article to attempt again to draw the attention of the Exercise to a similar and possibly even greater risk in another department of ringing activity, namely, Spliced Surprise Major in many methods, or for that matter, multi-method Minor peals.

It is the easiest thing in the world to call the bobs correctly, but to call the method or combination of methods wrongly without ever realising that one has done so. I submit, therefore, that such peals should only be rung in the presence of an umpire in the belfry who will check the methods as called.

Compositions in up to eight methods with all the work for every bell have now been rung. The conductors concerned in these peals are men of the highest integrity and ability. I know and have rung with all of them and am quite certain they could be depended upon to the last degree, but there is the grave risk of a genuine and undetected mistake, and in my view serious consideration to the matter by the Exercise is overdue.

There is a story told—I know it well in outline but am not certain of the exact details—of the late William Pye, when calling the peal, I think in 12 methods, at Willesden. He realised he had called London instead of Rutland, or vice-versa, but decided to continue to the end of the peal in the hope that the alteration would not affect the truth of the composition. Fortunately, the alteration made no difference, but one hesitates to think what might have happened had the conductor been a less able or a less honest man, if the error had affected the truth of the composition.

I am not without experience of calling compositions of the kind mentioned, but I would greatly appreciate expressions of opinion from other conductors of this type of peal. To make the point that anyone of sufficient ability could 'cook' any peal is no answer. 'Cooks' of that type are worthy only of contempt. I am writing not of their activities but of errors made in genuine innocence.—Yours faithfully,

P. A. CORBY.

Melton Mowbray.

ST. SIMON'S TRIPLES

Dear Sir.—On looking through the peals recorded at St. Helen's, Darley Dale, Derbyshire, we find that a peal of St. Simon's Triples was rung here on Wednesday, August 6th, 1913. The Midland Counties' report of that year shows that the performance was by an all-local band, viz.: John Siddall (jun.) 1, William Taylor 2, Henry Gregory 3, Thomas White 4, James L. Wright 5, Edwin Blackwell 6, Alfred C. Wright 7, John W. Derbyshire 8.

The peal was composed by Arthur Knights and conducted by A. C. Wright, and was the first in the method for the M.C.A., as also were two other peals rung the same year by an identical band—St. Clement's Triples and Little Bob Major.

Incidentally, St. Helen's was the leading tower for the M.C.A. that year, with ten peals. SS. Peter and Paul's, Aston, Birmingham, and St. Mary and All Saints', Chesterfield, coming joint seconds with seven peals.—Yours, etc.,

H. F. TAYLOR.

Darley Dale.

THE COLLECTION OF DOUBLES METHODS

Dear Sir,—The collection of Doubles methods contains all the regular single-hunt three or four lead methods, and for the sake of completeness, the following are all the worthwhile irregular single-hunt three or four lead methods which conform to the individual plain-course requirement, 'no method shall be the bob lead of another single-hunt method.'

Methods marked A have a Grandsire single above the treble for a bob.

Methods marked B have a fourths place bob at the lead end.

Methods marked C have a Grandsire extreme above the treble for a bob.

There are only six worthwhile single-hunt two-lead methods, as follows: Reading Bob, Wexham Place, Ascot Bob, London V Bob, Lampton Place and Osterley Bob which are R. Union, R. St. Faith, R. St. Julian, St. Augustine, St. George and R. St. Sebastian respectively, with no places at the lead end. The first three have 3rds for a bob above the treble, when treble is coming down in 21, and 345 for a single. The last three have 3rds for a bob below the treble, when treble is coming down in 54, and 123 for a single. There are 12 extents as in Cranbourne Imperial.

As this gives Doubles ringers a complete list of all the 100 different individual plain course single-hunt methods, might I suggest that in future, variations on these methods (i.e., the use of a different bob) retain their distinguishing names, but add to their title the classification 'Pleasure,' i.e., April Day Pleasure, Cassington Pleasure, Rushall Pleasure, etc.; and that peals of Doubles be analysed according to the number of different individual plain courses they contain? The Methods Committee suggest that the different bobs could be used, but that the variations should use the name of the plain course, i.e., publish a peal as 'a peal of Plain Bob, 12 different callings.' I suggest that it would be better to publish it as 'a peal of Plain Bob, Norfolk Pleasure and Old Pleasure,' and claim it as a peal in one method.—Yours sincerely,

F. T. BLAGROVE.

Stanwell.

LITTLE BOB METHODS

Dear Sir.—If Mr. Blagrove refers to 'The Ringing World' journals of March 6th, 1925, and March 17th, 1933, he will find the figures of Dartford and Northfleet Little Bob respectively.

I do not think the figures of Erith Little Bob were published when the first peal was rung, but the method is the same as Dartford except that in Erith the 3-4 places are reversed.—Yours truly,

E. BARNETT.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION

Visitors from Aldbourne, Bristol, Cheltenham, Devizes and Gloucester attended the annual meeting of the Swindon Branch on December 10th, and a hearty welcome was extended to Mr. Frank Skidmore, General Secretary of the Association.

The Vicar (Rev. Canon F. W. Thomas) welcomed the ringers to Christ Church and conducted the service. He also paid tribute to Mr. Charlie Gardner, who had completed 60 years' service as a member of the local band.

The company was entertained to tea by the Christ Church ringers, and at the business meeting all the retiring officers were re-elected. The branch secretary reported that membership was being maintained and there had been an increase in the number of peals rung in the Branch compared with the previous year.

It was proposed that meetings be held at St. Mark's, Swindon, Stratton St. Margaret and Wroughton during the next three months. Ringing was resumed after the meeting and ranged from rounds to Cambridge Royal.

MORE BELFRY GOSSIP

Mrs. E. M. Mitchell, of Gravesend, was taught to ring in 1909 by Mr. Osborne, of Reading, whose diamond wedding on Boxing Day is mentioned in this issue.

The Librarian of the Central Council acknowledges with grateful thanks the gift of a MS. by James R. Lawson, Carillonneur of the Rockefeller Memorial Chapel at the University of Chicago, entitled, 'Carillon Bibliographies.' It contains a complete bibliography of published music for carillons by contemporary carillonners. Thirty-three compositions are listed: 29 of these are written for four-octave carillons, three for three-octave carillons and one for a two-octave carillon.

To honour the 90th birthday of Mr. J. W. Jones on December 5th, six members of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association met at Llanfrehfa on December 10th for an attempt for a peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor. Unfortunately, the rope of the fifth slipped wheel in the first 720 and it was not possible to go for a peal. However, a 720 of Cambridge Minor was rung on six of the remaining bells by the Rev. I. J. Richards 1, D. G. Clarke 2, Miss J. S. Evans 3, D. King 4, G. Lewis 5, T. M. Roderick (conductor) 6.

PEAL RINGING IN WILTSHIRE

By The Rev. K. W. H. FELSTEAD

AFTER some six counties with either large numbers of bells or large number of peals to talk about, we come to one which is 'average' in both—Wiltshire. Only one tower has reached the century of peals mark, and it did so nearly 45 years ago—Salisbury, St. Martin's (8). Before the first war, this was the chief centre of ringing in the county—in fact only four other towers had reached double figures in peals by 1914—Trowbridge, Christ Church, Swindon, Colerne and Wootton Bassett (only the Swindon tower had passed the 20 mark.) Thus the 105 peals rung at St. Martin's from 1887 to 1912 far surpasses all the others. Since then, however, only 14 peals have been rung there—nine between the wars and five since 1946, so things have changed very considerably here.

Second on the list is the only 12-bell tower in the county—Trowbridge. From 1886 to 1922 18 of the 90 peals were rung. Then, in 1923, came the first peal on ten bells in the county, followed by 37 more by 1936 when the augmentation to 12 took place. There were seven on the 12 before the war and there have been 27 in the past ten years. Christ Church, Swindon, follows with 82 peals. It was the second most popular 8-bell tower before 1914 and had 41 peals from 1884. Nine more came from the four years after the first war, and then the trebles were added. From 1925 to 1937 18 peals were rung on the ten and there have been 14 since 1945. Except for North Bradley, these last two towers have had as many or more peals since the last war than any other Wiltshire tower. Christ Church is the only 10-bell tower in the county.

Apart from the above three churches, there are no others which have passed the 50 mark. Melksham (8) is nearest with 46—eight from 1896 to 1914, 25 from 1925 to 1935 and 13 since 1945. There are two in the 30's (already mentioned in passing). They are Wootton Bassett (8) with 38 and North Bradley with 37. Exactly half of the former's peals were rung from 1891 to 1914 and 14 more from 1921 to 1932. The remaining five came in 1935, 1939, 1950, 1951 and 1955. Only one peal had been rung at North Bradley prior to 1914—in 1913. It then had to wait until 1930 for the next and then seven more were rung up to 1938. It was still a 6-bell tower when 17 peals came from the years 1945 to 1949, and as an eight, 11 peals were rung from 1950 to 1954 (none this year so far).

In the 20's are, first, Christ Church, Bradford-on-Avon (8), with 29. The first peal was in 1924, and there were 20 in all up to 1939 including a 10,032 Bob Major in 1927. There have been nine since the war. Colerne (8) has 28—exactly half from 1888 to 1916, eight from 1924 to 1931 and six from 1950 to 1954. Then follows Devizes, St. John's (8), with 26—six before 1914, six since 1947 and the remainder from 1919 to 1937. Warminster (8) has 24, the first in 1881. There was a big gap then until 1919 when 16 peals came in the next 16 years. There have been seven since 1947. Both Stratton, St. Margaret's (8), and Bradford-on-Avon, Holy Trinity (8) have 23. At the former 14 have been rung since the war, so it is doing well now. The tower had six bells up to about 1930 and only three peals were rung before that, in 1914, 1921 and 1924. The remaining peals were rung in the 30's after augmentation. At the latter, we find a peal every two or three years since 1891. Bishops Cannings has 20 peals—14 from 1920 to 1935 and the remainder in 1890, 1901, 1914, and three from 1944 to 1947. That completes the towers with 20 or more peals in the 8-bell rings. The only 8-bell tower still to be 'conquered' is Malmesbury—recently an eight, I believe.

TWENTY-NINE 6-BELL TOWERS WITHOUT A PEAL

There are still 29 of the 85 6-bell towers which have not had a peal, so there is plenty of scope for tower grabbers here! Of the 56 which have, Hilperton has the most with 20—four from 1909 to 1913 (it was amongst the first 6-bell towers to have a peal), seven between the wars and nine since, so it is enjoying its best period now. Fourteen of Rodbourne-Cheney's 19 have been rung since 1945. The other five came from 1934 to 1938. Thirteen peals have been rung at Blunsdon and Holt. At the former, five were rung from 1920 to 1932 and eight since 1947. At the latter, there were peals in 1909 and 1913, eight from 1926 to 1936 and in 1945, 1946 and 1949. Southbroom has 12—the first in 1913 and another in 1914, with five from 1930 to 1932 and five from 1944 to 1947. The only other towers to reach double figures are Britford and Keevil with ten each. At the former nine have been rung since the war (the other was in 1920), whilst at the latter there were three from 1910 to 1914, five from 1923 to 1930 and odd ones in 1947 and 1948.

Only seven of the 47 5-bell towers have had a peal yet and only one of these has had more than one—Chilton Foliat, with two, in 1933 and 1947. The others, with the dates of their peals, are All Cannings (1931), Chilton (1934), Cricklade (1950), Ogbourne St. George (1953), Shalbourne (1953) and Yatesbury (1949).

So much for Wiltshire. A total of 974 peals has been rung in the county since 1881—the peal at Warminster being the first I came across. Totals include all published up to November 4th, 1955.

THE LADIES' GUILD

Many members and friends attended the winter meeting of the West Midland District, which was held at St. Mary's, Handsworth, on December 3rd. At times there was hardly standing room in the belfry. The newly-cast bells were ringing continuously in the afternoon and evening, at times by bands of ladies.

Evensong was said in the church by the Rector, the Rev. J. C. H. Tompkins, who, before the service, welcomed the Guild to his church.

A sumptuous tea was provided in the church hall by local lady ringers. The Vicar was unable to attend, but Miss Evelyn Fletcher, while thanking the local ringers, asked that thanks should be conveyed to the Rector. It was pleasing to note that the gentlemen were outnumbered at tea.

With the mellow sound of Double Norwich ringing in our ears, a business meeting was held. Four apologies were received, and four new members were elected. Members hoped that the next meeting would be held jointly with the Hereford District on the first Saturday in March.

OBITUARY

FREDERICK J. TILLET—1867-1955
AN APPRECIATION

With the passing of Fred Tillet on December 7th in his 89th year, East Anglia loses a great ringing personality. To the present generation he was but a name, but his contemporaries knew him as an outstanding tenor ringer. He was built for the job, a tall, upright, powerful man: to see him ring a heavy bell was a lesson in good striking coupled with economy of effort.

Perhaps his greatest performance was ringing the 20 cwt. tenor at Debenham to the 16,608 of Oxford T.B. Major, away back in 1892; but he also rang the tenors at Woodbridge, Leiston and Ufford to other long peals. He did not travel far; there were not the facilities in his day that we have, but he had rung the tenors at Cornhill, St. Martin-in-the-Fields, Norwich, Chelmsford and Fulham to peals. He rang St. Mary-le-Tower tenor to over 50 peals, including the first ever of New Cambridge, Superlative, Yorkshire and Pudsey S. Maximus, and also to Cambridge and York S. Double Norwich C.B., Oxford and Kent T.B., Plain Bob, Duffield and Forward Maximus.

He was, too, a notable handbell ringer, with a lovely sense of rhythm, and had rung peals of Oxford and Kent T.B. and Plain Bob, Maximus, Royal and Major, Grandsire Cinques, Caters and Triples, Stedman Caters and Double Norwich C.B. Major. The full record of his peals is not available, but I find he rang about 70 peals of Maximus.

He gave up active ringing for a few years in middle life and took up pigeon racing, and in this connection during the first world war, although in a reserved occupation, and well over military age, he 'wangled' himself over to France in charge of a pigeon locker. He was ever a roamer but returned to his first love after the war to take part in many more peals. He was possessed of a lively wit, and a gift of repartee which could be devastating. His sense of humour was keen, as the following shows. We used to fill up an odd five minutes at St. Mary-le-Tower with three leads of Treble 12, which he would call. On one occasion he said: 'Go, Kent,' and we on the front rang Oxford. Of course, he spotted it, but he had an answer to that, for the next time we rang it he said: 'Go, Treble Bob, and ring what you like!'

He came of a long line of ringers: his great grandfather's name appears on a peal board in St. Mary-le-Tower belfry in 1811, and his grandfather and father were ringers, as are also his son and grand-daughter, which gives six generations—a fact of which he was very proud.

He was laid to rest on December 12th in Ipswich cemetery. Amongst those present were several old ringing associates, and handbells were rung at the graveside by E. Evans, C. J. Sedgley, G. E. Symonds and G. W. Pipe. May he sleep well. C. J. S.

BOURNEMOUTH HOLIDAY
ACCOMMODATION

'Heaven from all mortals hides the book of fate,
All but the page prescribed—their present state.'
(Æsop's Fables, 'The Astrologer and the Traveller'.)

We thank all our patrons for their support during the past 'season.' It was a happy one; but the 'present state,' quoted in the aphorism above, proves to us the impossibility of maintaining our high standards at 1952 charges, and we wish to draw attention to our revised charges for 1956.

Terms: 7 gns. per week—children half price—inclusive of full board. Fitted basins in all double rooms. Ideal situation, near sea and shops. Meal times: breakfast, 8.30 to 9; dinner, 1; high tea 5.30; hot drink and sandwich at 10 p.m. Packed lunches provided. Beach hut available.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Price, St. Michael's, 9, Fisherman's Avenue, Southbourne, Bournemouth. Telephone Southbourne 46005. 7426

MRS. A. V. DAVIS

We regret to record the sudden death on Dec. 15th of Mrs. Grace M. Davis, wife of Mr. Arthur V. Davis, of 116, Alma Road, Bournemouth. Mrs. Davis, who was 54, shared her husband's deep interest in the welfare of St. Peter's Church, Bournemouth, and was held in affection by a wide circle of ringing and other friends. Mr. Davis shares his bereavement with his son and daughter.

The funeral service was held at St. Peter's Church, Bournemouth, last Tuesday.

MR. ARTHUR S. GILLOTT

It is with deep regret that we record the death, on December 7th, of Mr. Arthur S. Gilloft. He was 77 years of age.

For many years ringer, secretary and master of the Guild of St. George, Camberwell, Mr. Gilloft as a younger man was an ardent cyclist, and it was his regular practice to attend Communion at St. George's, ride into the country, ring at a church, and be back in the evening for ringing at his own church.

About four years ago he handed over his belfry work to the 'younger generation,' but he was still interested in the welfare of the tower, and only four months ago he ascended the vertical ladder to the bells to see how repairs were going on.

On December 11th, 1260 Grandsire Triples were rung half-muffled (tenor open) to his memory by E. R. Iveson 1, L. V. Roberts 2, Miss V. M. Westray 3, B. P. Danbury 4, E. G. Webb 5, W. D. Grainger 6, F. R. L. Blewer (cond.) 7, W. W. Shorter 8.

MR. O. J. HUNT

Mr. Louis A. Wilson, of Wootton Bassett, writes: With deep regret I read of the passing of Oswald James Hunt. As Ringing Master at Wootton Bassett, I instructed him as a choir-boy. Like many others, he was rather slow in picking up change ringing—in fact, this was a joke between us.

I was always pleased to read of his progress in ringing matters as it paid me for all the trouble I took with him. He always sent me a card at Christmas, which I was looking for when I received my 'Ringing World.' May he rest in peace for he was one of the truest servants of the Church.

Spliced Bristol Surprise and Double Norwich Court Bob Major

By B. D. PRICE

One lead only of Double Norwich is inserted in each course of Bristol at the lead-end following the middle position, i.e., when the tenor is in 4ths place. The effect is to condense the front work of the tenor from 96 changes to 16 changes in each course and reduces the length of the 'plain' course to 144 changes.

There are no rows in the Double Norwich alien to the Bristol had there been no change of method, and any peal of Bristol of sufficient length, with calls at M.W.H. only, will run true to the two methods spliced.

The following composition was used when the peal was rung at Sherfield English, Hants, conducted by C. H. Kippin.
