A FLASHBACK OF 90 YEARS

Durham and Newcastle Association's Anniversary

Grey towers of Durham
Yet well I love thy mixed and massive piles
Half Church of God, half castle 'gainst the Scot,
And long to roam these venerable aisles
With records stored of deeds long since forgot.

THESE words were written by Sir Walter Scott on the occasion of his visit to Durham for a banquet given by Bishop Van Mildert in honour of the Duke of Wellington. The verse is inscribed on a stone let into the approach to Prebends' Bridge, from which general direction the world-famous view that graces our front cover this week would be taken.

One deed which is not being forgotten occurred in the Song School of Durham Cathedral on August 17th, 1877, when the Durham Association of Ringers was founded. Later, when the Newcastle Diocese was formed in 1882, the title was expanded to the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association to cover the two dioceses embracing the original territory.

PEAL IN 1790

There is evidence of earlier ringing societies in the area, one of these being the Union Society of Newcastle and Gateshead, which had recorded peals as having been rung as far back as 1790. The great wave of feeling for belfry reform that swept through the country in the latter part of the 19th century brought with it the formation of many of the present territorial bodies and the Durham and Newcastle Association is one of the oldest of them. The only older bodies of this type are those for Devonshire, Yorkshire, Lancashire and the Diocese of Norwich.

The Association had stated among its objects the promotion and improvement of church bell ringing, especially scientific change ringing for divine service. The qualification for membership was the ability to ring rounds to the satisfaction of the committee and the subscription of a performing member was one shilling per annum.

The first annual report for the year ending September, 1878, was published as a broadsheet, and it was reported in "Church Bells." It took the form of a review of previous Associations and activities in the District, and continued with a report of progress since the inauguration.

The report also contained a mention of a distant feeling amongst the ringers at Durham, and quite plainly belaboured the Cathedral men for their refusal to co-operate with Association members, even to the extent of debarring them from the Cathedral belfry. A footnote to the report gave the news of the first peal by the Association, Grand sire Triples, at North Shields.

BELFRY REFORM

The earliest reports, whilst detailing the events of the year, placed great stress upon the need for yet more and more belfry reform, and contended in one case "... if the once familiar pipe, the jug of beer, or the usual associations of a tap room are indulgences strictly forbidden by the self-imposed rules of ringers, then this Association produced a beneficial effect."

The insistence upon this side of the Association's aims did not prevent many frequent exhortations to improve the quality of ringing, and the advancement into more complex methods.

Due to the sparsity of ringing towers in the North Country, a great difficulty to be surmounted in those early days was the distance between towers, making it anything but easy to gather mixed companies for practice, but the enthusiasm and abilities of the first leaders and their colleagues were responsible in a large measure for the spreading of the Association's activities, and meetings as far afield from Newcastle as Chester-le-Street were attended by Newcastle men, whose means of transport was frequently by road on foot.

The President, Mr. W. Lyson

Early office bearers, holding the positions of president were William Reed, of North Shields, the brothers R. S. and W. Story, and C. L. Routledge, of Newcastle, and the first secretary was G. J. Clarkson, of Stockton, whose period in office lasted from 1877 to 1898.

A copy letter book by G. J. Clarkson has recently come to hand. This contains copies of 128 of his letters, all associated with the restoration of bells. It is hoped to give extracts from this book in a series later in the year. Much of the interest derives from Clarkson's style of writing, and paraphrasing or drastic condensation would spoil that interest.

The towers at North Shields, Stockton and St. John's, Newcastle, had companies of enthusiastic and competent ringers, who rang some of the earliest peals for the Association.

PIONEERED SPLICED SURPRISE

The talented Gofton family, of Whitley Bay, pioneered Spliced Surprise Minor in the North, ringing 14 methods in 1906, and later accomplished peals of the first Surprise in Scotland, London Surprise Major and Stedman Cincques on handbells, and the first ever of Spliced Surprise Major, Cambridge and Superlative, at Whitley Bay in 1924.

At Sunderland, St. Ignatius' (a most competent six-bell company) were ringing Surprise Minor in many methods during the early part of the 1900's and from Joseph W. Parker, of this band, came such a flood of brilliant compositions as to place him amongst the most honoured of the Exercise's composers.

At a later time, the mantle of Surprise Minor fell upon the Darlington Holy Trinity band, who took the score to 21 methods.

The Newcastle Cathedral ringers under William H. Barber, whose conducting of difficult compositions of Stedman excited the admiration of the ringing world, took Erin Triples and Caters as "firsts," but were forestalled for the Cincques by the Birmingham men.

The augmentation of the Newcastle Cathedral ring to 12 opened a new field, and full advantage was taken by the ringers of the district.

KEENNESS

Great strides in new methods have been a feature of peal ringing of recent years, and there is a keenness in the district which gives every confidence for the future.

Training and encouragement of ringers is very much part of the Association's outlook upon its responsibilities and, under the Ringing Master, Mr. Kenneth Arthur, supported by a competent panel of instructors, one-day courses of instruction in many aspects of the art have been held annually at Lumley Castle for four years.

The Durham and Newcastle Association enjoys the patronage of the Lords Bishop of Durham, Newcastle and Jarrow, the Dean of Durham, the Provost of Newcastle and the Archdeacon of Northumberland, and it earns the respect and co-operation of the clergy in both dioceses.

Its president is Mr. W. Tyson, a member of a well-known ringing family, and he enjoys the support of a membership of 220 serving 34 active towers in Northumberland and Durham.

OUR PICTURE

Durham Cathedral of Christ and Blessed Mary the Virgin from the south-west, above the wooded slopes of the River Wear, is one of the most memorable views in the country.

In its strength and grandeur the building, which was finished in 1133, remains unsurpassed. The twin western towers are Norman to the level of the nave clerestory and then raised in the Early English period. The lofty central tower, built about 1465-1490, impresses with its great height and quiet design.

Experts regard the nave as one of the finest Romanesque interiors in Europe; the massive cylindrical columns are adorned with a variety of bold chiselled patterns.

The great stone screen of 1372 contains 107 alabaster figures in beautifully pinnacled niches. The bones of the Venerable Bede lie under a plain tomb in the Galilee Chapel near the west end. In 1370 his shrine was encased in plates of gold and silver, states an old record.

A visit to Durham Cathedral is a lasting memory; so perhaps is the long climb to the ringing chamber, where there are eight bells with a tenor of 30 cwt. in D flat.

UNIQUE FACILITIES FOR ENJOYABLE HOLIDAY DURING CELEBRATION WEEK

THE outline programme of special events is advertised in this issue. The rally at Lumley Castle is envisaged as a mainly local event, for the accommodation is rather limited, but the other events are designed to attract visitors or to give them opportunities that do not normally occur.

Ringling at Durham Cathedral is severely limited by the architects, and most visitors who have rung there in recent years have done so as part of the Sunday ringling. Change ringling is very limited during the summer when the University students are on vacation. It is hoped that by providing a band of change ringers on these three Sunday afternoons some visitors may be enabled to add Durham to their lists of towers. Perhaps a holiday in Scotland may be contemplated this year, and the idea of ringling at York Minster in the morning, Durham Cathedral in the afternoon and Newcastle Cathedral in the evening on one of these Sundays, with St. John's, Newcastle, as a bonus, while on the journey north, should be quite attractive. In the reverse direction, Newcastle in the morning, Durham in the afternoon and a Yorkshire tower such as Selby Abbey or St. George's, Doncaster, might be found convenient and attractive.

The celebrations will culminate in Durham on Saturday, September 23rd. On that day there will be ringling in the area around Durham before Evensong in the Durham Cathedral. The preacher at that service will be Canon Thurlow, president of the Central Council. At 6.30 for 7 p.m. there will be a special dinner at St. Aidan's College, Durham. The Bishop of Durham, Canon Thurlow, the Master and other College Youths are among those who hope to be present and, with the enthusiasm already evident among resident members, it is confidently expected that the capacity of the dining hall, set at 200 for this special occasion, will be fully taken up, and early application for the tickets (priced at £1 per head) will be essential. St. Aidan's College is an attractive modern building, designed by Sir Basil Spence, standing on high ground with a commanding view of the city. Overnight accommodation can be provided by the College for any visitors at a cost of 27s. 6d. per person per night for bed and breakfast.

COLLEGE H.Q.

Ringers who have not visited this area might be interested in a tour in the week preceding this dinner. If demand is sufficient (minimum 20 to maximum 40) the option on the accommodation at St. Aidan's College can be taken up and the detailed arrangements made in due course. Any individual or group interested in this idea should communicate with me as early as possible. In outline the full tour would commence with ringling prior to dinner on Saturday, September 16th, and conclude with breakfast on Sunday, September 24th. During that time it would be feasible to ring on just about all of the ringable bells in the Association's territory, as shown by recent experience with London University and Universities' Association tours. The totals would be about 500 miles and 50 towers, with some fine scenery in many parts. The cost of accommodation at St. Aidan's College for the eight nights (dinner, bed and breakfast and including the special dinner) would be approximately £14 per head. This would not include transport, for which it would be expected that there would be sufficient cars.

Ringers who are not able to visit the Durham and Newcastle area on these occasions might find themselves in it at some other time, such as in the course of business. Visitors are always welcome and for their convenience a list of practice nights in the more populous

PETERBOROUGH'S EASTER

Roy W. Spencer tells us of the busy Easter Day of St. Mary's, Peterborough, band. Assembled at St. Mary's at 7.30 a.m. for ringling for 8 a.m. service; then travelled five miles to Alwalton and ringling for the 9.30 service, which all attended.

Another band of seven rang at St. Mary's from 9.30 to 10.15 for the Parish Communion. Handbells were rung for 20 minutes outside the daughter church of St. Michael, which is without bells, for the 11.30 service. The usual ringling from 5.45 to 6.30 for Evensong at St. Mary's concluded a happy day of service.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY SOCIETY DINNER

The annual dinner fell on February 4th, and was again held in Jesus College. The day's ringling began at noon at Carfax. All the Oxford towers were available except St. Thomas', which the organisers felt would scarcely attract even the most inveterate grabbers. However the Master of the Sheffield University Society refused to take this good-natured hint and insisted on ringling a quarter peal there the next day.

Despite the crowds however, one of our members managed to find time to introduce a foreign visitor to ringling, although unintentionally. Congratulations are certainly due to the beginner for initiative and observation in ringling three strokes alone before inevitably breaking the stay. Ringling, apart from this episode, was painfully unoriginal as is only to be expected where bells are more numerous than easy. Magdalen's, some of the easiest bells, probably produced the best ringling.

After Evensong at the University Church of St. Mary the Virgin we moved to Jesus College where the Dinner Committee's seating plan came under the usual critical review. More worrying, however, was the crisis of numbers which was only solved by the fortunate absence of some guests. This prevented the Committee from saving their money by dining on fish and chips. Instead they were present to hear the President, Canon C. E. Wigg, propose the loyal toast and introduce the other speakers.

Brevity was to be the major theme of the evening in which the three Oxford speakers excelled. An interruption by the ex-Master during one speech suggested that secret orders were perhaps responsible for this. "The Church" was proposed by the secretary, Mr. Stephen Royal, in an amusing speech, recalling the mission which was ending in Oxford that night, and its purpose. The Rev. Phillip Martin replied for the clergy but emphasised that the Church included laity as well as clergy.

Mr. Brand then welcomed the visitors despite expressing some doubts about the purity of their motives in coming. We were pleased to have Mr. Peter Border as guest of honour to defend the visitors and he promised not to be absent from Oxford for such a long time again.

As usual the Master of the Cambridge University Guild, the experienced Mr. Stephen Darvill, was forced to sing for his supper by proposing the toast of "The Society." The secret orders about brevity had not penetrated to his end of the table but his kind advice to the new officers was well received.

The Master replied with the traditional resumé of the year's events recalling with glee the various accidents which had befallen his fellow members. Members and guests then adjourned to the beer cellar which, though small, appeared to serve its purpose. V.R.

SOUTHWELL GUILD'S 8 per cent MEMBERSHIP JUMP

THE attendance at the 21st annual general meeting of the Southwell Diocesan Guild, held in the Bingham District on April 1st, was most encouraging. During the afternoon ringing took place on the six bells at Granby, Orston and Whatton-in-the-Vale, and on the eight bells at Bingham. Evensong was held in Bingham Church, conducted by the Rector (the Rev H. A. Kirton), Mr. Peter Else playing the organ.

A most enjoyable tea, prepared by the ladies of the Bingham District and their helpers, was partaken of in St. Mary's Church Hall, Radcliffe-on-Trent.

The business meeting, attended by 130 resident members, was presided over by the Guild chairman, Mr. F. W. Midwinter, supported by the vice-chairman, the Rev. F. W. Stepheni, the hon. treasurer, Mr. J. W. Raithby, and the hon. general secretary, Mr. W. L. Exton.

The meeting was opened by prayers, led by the vice-president, and a minute's silence for five members who had died since the last A.G.M., namely Messrs. J. W. Coleman (Nottingham), St. Peter's), H. M. Turner (South Anston), S. Pinder (Basford), Mrs. C. M. Crawford (Rampton) and Mr. C. Randall (Mansfield).

Mr. J. D. Clarke, chairman of the Bingham District, gave a very warm welcome to the Guild on this their first visit to the District.

The minutes were approved and the annual report, which had been in circulation for some two weeks was, with one or two queries, accepted on the proposition of Mr. J. D. Clarke, seconded by Mr. B. M. Buswell.

UNPRECEDENTED INCREASE

The hon. general secretary reported that despite an increase in subscriptions, with its consequent loss of several members, membership had risen by an unprecedented amount of nearly 8 per cent., and for the first time in its history the Guild had a membership of well over 500 members. Noteworthy increases were amongst the younger age groups and for the first time four clergymen who were also practical ringers were members.

Lectures on bells and ringing, with handbell demonstrations, had been provided by members through the Rural Communities Council, and the Further Education Department had during the past year exceeded 25, with a result that over 600 people now knew a little bit more about bells and ringing.

The year 1966 also proved to be a busy year on the bell restoration side: the bells at Eastwood (8) were rehung, the five at Sturton-le-Steeple were augmented to six and the three at Sutton-cum-Lound were rehung in a new frame for six. To each of these a donation of £50 had been given by the Guild.

RESTORATIONS

New ground was broken at Shelton (2) and Whatton (6), where close co-operation between the P.C.C.s, ringers and bellfounders resulted in the bells being rehung on ball-bearings by local labour, this resulting in a substantial reduction in the final cost of the completed work. Restoration work was also undertaken at Sibthorpe (4) and Nottingham All Saints' (8), where broken wheels and other minor defects were repaired. Inspections carried out and reports submitted amounted to 14 in various parts of the diocese. The income to the Bell Repair Fund was down by £26 1s. 11d. to £151 15s. 2d. and donations at £168 14s. 5d. were slightly above the income, but a balance of £213 10s. 2d. carried forward was considered satisfactory.

The hon. treasurer reported that the increase in subscriptions and peal fees had resulted in a satisfactory balance sheet, the profit on the year's working amounting to £39 3s. 10d.

MORE PEALS

The peal committee reported that with a total of 123 peals in 1966 (not including the peal of 5,319 Doubles rung at South Collingham on November 29th, which they rejected) they had exceeded the previous record set in 1964 by two. Seventeen members rang their first peal and ten of the 19 1965 first pealers rang further peals in 1966. Not one peal bore the footnote "First as conductor," but all save one of the 1965 crop called further peals in 1966. Leading conductors were W. L. Exton 16, G. A. Dawson 13, Ruth Blackshaw 10, H. Poyner 9 and S. Humphrey 8.

The 117 tower-bell peals were rung in 53 towers, 43 (out of the total of 92) in the county and there were three independent handbell centres. The conducting was shared among 26 people; there were 165 involved, 11 (21 per cent.) of whom were resident members of the Guild.

Coddington and Harby bells have had peals rung on them for the first time. Balderton has now reached 25 and Greasley 100. The peal at South Collingham on January 24th, in 44 extents of Doubles with 54 plain course methods and 126 variations, is the largest number of methods/variations yet rung to a peal.

Quarter peals were down, only 76 against 134 were rung in 34 towers, the list being headed by Kirkby-in-Ashfield 9, Holme Pierrepont 7 and Wollaton 6.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

The retiring officers were thanked for their services to the Guild during the past year, and as no nominations had been received they were re-elected to serve for one more year. The vice-chairman (the Rev. F. W. Stepheni) and the hon. treasurer (Mr. J. W. Raithby) both gave notice that they would not be standing for re-election next year, and the hon. general secretary gave notice that next year nominations would be required for the election of Central Council delegates for the period 1969-1971.

The collection for the Bell Repair Fund realised £4 16s. 9d.

An amendment to the Crawford Cup rules, proposed by Mr. H. Poyner and seconded by Miss R. Blackshaw, that the following should be added to Rule 6: "No ringer shall ring for more than one team in the final contest," was carried unanimously.

CENTRAL COUNCIL'S VISIT

The hon. general secretary reported on the arrangements that had been made for the forthcoming visit by the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers to Nottingham at the end of May. He gave details of the ringing, including the ringing tours and the social arrangements already in hand, and gave out a short resumé to the District secretaries for issue to tower captains so that everyone would know his or her part in the arrangements. Following a few questions, Mrs. B. N. Reed proposed a vote of thanks to the hon. general secretary and the officers for all the arrangements they had made. This was carried unanimously.

Details of the arrangements already in hand for the Three Counties Festival to be held at Derby on September 16th were also given. It was interesting to note that amongst the members present there were ten old M.C.A. members.

Mr. S. W. Fossey, the Mansfield District chairman, proposed a comprehensive vote of thanks to the officers, the incumbents for the use of the bells and for the service, the ladies for an excellent tea, and to the Bingham District in general for the way in which they had entertained the Guild that day.

The chairman declared the meeting closed, and said that further ringing was now available at Bingham (8), Radcliffe-on-Trent (8), Cotgrave (6), East Bridgford (6) and Holme Pierrepont (6). Further visitors during the evening swelled the attendance during the day to well over 150.

OBITUARY

MR. S. BROMFIELD

The Lincoln Diocesan Guild has lost yet another member of long standing with the passing of Stephen Bromfield. He had done almost all his ringing in North Lincolnshire, starting in the early part of the century in the Barton-on-Humber area.

After the first world war he resided in Grimsby and was a member of the band at St. Andrew's. The church was later destroyed and he then joined the band at the Parish Church of St. James. In 1956 he returned to Barton-on-Humber in his retirement, where he was greatly valued by those ringing at the two beautiful old churches.

A most reliable ringer with a quiet, unassuming manner, he was greatly respected by all. His peal total is not to hand but the writer would say that he had rung about 80 in the standard methods.

A number of ringers attended the funeral service on March 28th and in the evening a quarter peal was rung half-muffled on St. Mary's bells by the local band. J. B.

MR. HORACE MORRIS

It was with shock that the villagers of Wootton (Oxon) learned of the sudden death of Mr. Horace Morris on Easter Saturday.

Horace was 65 years of age and was due to retire from his job as gardener at Blenheim Palace this summer. His wife had died eight years before him, and since then Horace had lived by himself.

He was tower captain at St. Mary's Church, where he had rung for 52 years. In that time he had taught many villagers to handle a bell. For years Horace looked after the clock and bells, a job he did with pride.

The funeral was on March 30th and was attended by nearly all his fellow bellringers. Interment was in a shady corner of the churchyard, within sound of the bells he loved. St. George's flag was flown at halfmast from the tower all day, and in the evening the bells were rung half-muffled to a quarter peal by the local band.

May he rest in peace. We shall miss him very much. E. R. V.

MR. T. G. MYERS

His countless ringing friends throughout the country will mourn the passing of Thomas George Myers, of Plymouth, to whom death came suddenly on Easter Monday after a prolonged period of suffering and ill-health.

Tom a true son of the West Country, was born in Plymouth on September 29th, 1906, and at a very tender age was introduced to the delights of bellringing by his father, the late Harry Myers, who was at that time captain at Emmanuel Church, Plymouth. So determined was Harry that his three sons, Tom, Will and Fred should become ringers that the brothers had no option but to follow in their father's footsteps, and indeed a non-ringing male member of the Myers family would have been regarded as a black sheep.

Tom very quickly showed himself to be a born ringer, and on July 19th, 1922, at the age of 15, he rang the treble to his first peal—Grandsire Triples—at St. George's, Stonehouse, conducted by his father. In all, Tom rang 243 peals, conducting 96. His last peal was one of Plain Bob Minor at Kelly on July 6th, a peal in which the writer was privileged to take part, and which was conducted by Roy Bould, who started his change ringing career as a pupil of Tom's.

It was not only in the field of peal ringing that Tom showed his capabilities; for over 20 years he held office in the South West Branch of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers at various periods as chairman, Ringing Master, secretary and treasurer. He represented the Guild on the Central Council and in later years was accorded the honour of a vice-presidency of the Guild in recognition of his loyal and devoted service over so many years. He was a member of 14 other Associations, among them the College Youths, the Truro Guild, the St. Martin's Guild, the Irish Association and the Durham and Newcastle Association, to mention but a few.

To Tom, there was no place like Devon, and one of his great joys was visiting, with his friends, the many lovely village churches with which the county abounds, and ringing on bells that are rarely rung to half-pull ringing. He made many friends among the call change ringers of the county and would enjoy sitting in the "local" with them after ringing, with a pint of mild and talking, naturally, of bells and ringers.

Tom was a Christian and a practising churchman who recognised the value of his branch of the ministry within the Church, and he had little time for a ringer who was not prepared to take his place for regular service ringing. He laboured unceasingly in the training of young ringers at St. Andrew's, Plymouth.

It is due to his efforts also that the fine old ten at St. Andrew's were kept in good ringing order and it would be impossible to estimate how many hours he spent among these bells, so beloved by him. If it was not for his attention to detail in ensuring the louvre shutters were closed these bells would have crashed to the ground when the church was gutted during the blitz of the last war; as it was, the sparks from the blaze were unable to drift up through the louvres and the tower was saved intact.

The funeral service was held at St. Andrew's on March 31st prior to cremation at Efford. Tom's beloved bells were rung before and after the service half-muffled to rounds and touches of Grandsire Caters and Stedman Triples. The coffin was borne by six members of the South West Branch of the Devon Guild and at the close of the service handbells were rung over the coffin by four members of the same Guild. During the service the Vicar of St. Andrew's, the Rev. J. K. Gavell, paid warm tribute to the devotion and loyalty Tom had given his Church during his lifetime and pointed out that his life was a shining example of true churchmanship that would for many years leave its mark not only on St. Andrew's but on the whole of the Devon Guild.

So passes from our sight one of the great ringers of the West Country, and we who are left thank God for the privilege of having known him and for the countless hours of pleasure in his company.

May God grant him eternal peace. R. A. S.

MR. A. E. HINMAN

Ringers of the Melton District were shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mr Alfred E. Hinman at his home at Kirby Bellars, Leicestershire, early on March 16th at the age of 54 years. Although he was in hospital about three years ago for a heart operation, he still attended ringing practices at Great Dalby and Gaddesby; in fact he had been to Gaddesby on the previous evening.

He was a member of the Leicester Diocesan Guild and the Framland Association. He had also been Vicar's warden for five years. A man of a quiet and friendly disposition, he was very fond of ringing and had rung 52 peals in all. He leaves a widow and a son and daughter.

The funeral at St. Peter's, Kirby Bellars, on March 20th was attended by a large congregation, which included workmates from the Ordnance Depot at Old Dalby, and Melton District ringers. The Vicar, the Rev. J. G. Frostick, conducted the service and an address was given by the Rev. G. Slater. Interment was in the churchyard under the sound of the bells he loved.

A half-muffled quarter peal in three Doubles methods was rung by Mrs. B. Woodcock 1, Mrs. M. Stimson (District secretary) 2, J. H. Cook (District chairman) 3, H. J. Bonshor (conductor) 4, C. E. Cooper 5.

MR. J. W. PRICE

It is with regret that we publish the death on March 21st of Mr. John William Price, tower captain at Clay Cross, at his home at the age of 63.

Until his illness, Mr. Price was an active member of the ringing circles in North East Derbyshire and chairman of the Chesterfield District of the Derbyshire Association. Although he was never a great peal ringer, he was always ready to welcome and encourage young ringers.

He was a member of the East Derbyshire and West Notts Association for the past 40 years and served the Association very well, being secretary for a number of years, Ringing Master and president, and was a vice-president and life member until his death.

The funeral took place at Clay Cross Parish Church on March 23rd, followed by cremation. Before the funeral service several touches were rung on the half-muffled bells by members of both the Derbyshire Association and East Derbyshire and West Notts Association. A memorial peal was rung on the bells at Clay Cross on Saturday, March 25th, and a memorial service at Evensong on April 19th was attended by many ringers. E. J. S.

BEXLEY, KENT.—On March 22nd, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: Miss P. A. Fox 1, K. Medhurst 2, Miss J. R. Cox 3, M. Bridges 4, Miss M. R. Andrews 5, E. A. Barnett (and) 6. In memory of David Connolly (age 19), a ringer at Bexley, who died on March 18th as the result of a road accident.

MR. H. D. HARRIS

The death of Douglas Harris on March 21st, at the age of 92, marked the end of an era that was begun in Woburn in the last century by the man who introduced change ringing into Bedfordshire, namely Charles Herbert.

Douglas was born in Nantwich, Cheshire, on March 1st, 1875, and was confirmed at Ashton. He moved to Woburn at the age of 17 and went to work in the estate office of the Duke of Bedford in Woburn Park. When he retired, after 47 years' service, he was head accountant. He was founder and secretary of the local football, tennis and bowls clubs, in all of which he had taken part.

Charles Herbert taught him to handle a rope in 1895. He also taught him to ring handbells. He rang his first quarter, of Plain Bob Major, in 1896, and joined the Bedfordshire Association the same year. His first peal was on the eight bells of Woburn old church in 1897. His first on handbells, Plain Bob Royal, took place in 1902 at the house of Mr. Herbert, where many more were to be rung including one of Plain Bob Maximus "in hand" in 1903; this was the first for all the band, for the Bedfordshire Association and in the county (this has not yet been surpassed). He rang about 50 peals in all, about half of which were "in hand."

He was a vice-president and trustee of the Bedfordshire Association. He sang in Woburn choir for 50 years and was Vicar's warden for seven years, after which he served as a sidesman and on the Parochial Church Council. He was tower captain for some time, following Mr. Avis, and always referred to the bells as "his bells."

In 1931 he went on a ringers' pilgrimage to Belgium, and it was on this trip that he met the late H. J. Poole. He rang 9-10 to a touch of Grandsire Caters during a service at the Menin Gate; the rest of the band were: Raymond Philpott 1-2, Redvers F. Elkington 3-4, Alfred H. Pulling 5-6, and Harold J. Poole 7-8. Rather unique, a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on the border, with 1-2, 3-4 in France, and 5-6, 7-8 in Belgium. Peals of Stedman Caters and Grandsire Triples were also rung. His favourite method was London Surprise Major, and on at least three occasions a peal in this method was arranged at Woburn, but, alas, much to Douglas's disappointment, the attempt was never made.

When he was 82 he was knocked down by a car and sustained a dislocated shoulder. This put him out of action for a time but not for long. We lowered the tail-end of the 4th (his favourite bell) and he soon got going again. He rang tower bells until he was unable to climb the steps, but he was able to ring London "in hand" to celebrate his 90th birthday.

He was meticulous in everything he did; he kept a day-to-day diary up to the end of his life.

The cremation took place at Bedford on March 25th. At his request there was no fuss and no flowers. A memorial service was held in Woburn Church on April 11th. K. G. S.

Letters to the Editor

INFORMATION OF PEAL ATTEMPTS

Dear Sir.—I wholeheartedly support Mr E. Cribley's plea on page 200 for information to be published as to where and when what might be noteworthy peals are to be attempted. It is right, and proper that regular peal ringers should constantly be aware of the possibility that there may be a number of critical witnesses of their performances. Such an awareness can do much to maintain and improve standards.

To provide this information is a news service that you, sir, might consider offering your readers. Perhaps a paragraph every week on the Bell Founders' page entitled "Forthcoming Peal Attempts" would be appropriate, provided that peal arrangers supplied the necessary details.—Yours faithfully,

J. A. AINSWORTH,
Ringing Master,
St. Martin's Guild for the

Note.—Space will be allocated.—Ed.

BELLS OF THE MOSCOW KREMLIN

Dear Sir, — Apropos the article by "C. A. W." ("Ringing World," March 31st, 1967) on the clock and bells in the Saviour Tower of the Moscow Kremlin, according to "Palaces and Churches of the Kremlin" (Progress Publishers, Moscow, 1965), the clock-work which sounds the peal was installed by Christopher Galloway, and on another page he is quoted as joint architect with Bazhen Ogurtsov of the superstructure which crowns the tower, in 1624-25.

The "Pelican" publication, "Russian Art" (Tamara Talbot Rice, 1949, page 91), describes him as an "English architect" and responsible for the erection of the clock.

Apart from the above, I have no further information on Christopher Galloway but as there was considerable commerce between the Moscow Principality and London in the 16th and 17th centuries he may well have gone to Moscow by invitation to supervise the erection of the clock and casting of the bells—in effect a 17th century Lord Grimthorpe, although doing no actual bell founding himself.—Yours faithfully,

W. E. BOX.

Harborne, Birmingham.

SYMONDSON HANDBELLS

Dear Sir,—In answer to Mr. J. Whitmore's letter concerning the Symondson handbells, I have an octave of theirs which I have overhauled. The late Mr. Ernest Morris told me they were nearly 200 years old.

The inscription on the tenor is:

Symondson
and Son, Founders
N-1—Tottingham
Court Road
London

Penge Union.

"Penge Union" is also on the sound bow. It would be interesting to know about Penge Union.—Yours, faithfully,

W. WAGSTAFF.

Ickwell Green,
Biggleswade, Beds.

P.S.—Tottenham is spelt Tottingham.

Miss Brenda Arnott, of Thame, writes that a friend of hers has a set of handbells with the address inscribed on the tenor: Phillip Symondson, Bell Founder, 30 Clerkenwell Close, London. She asks if there is any connection between Henry and Phillip Symondson.

INTEREST IN PEAL COLUMNS

Dear Sir,—May I take up the point made by the Wrattens in their article "Leading Peal Ringers of 1966" (page 129) that, judging from the number of people who only ring one or two peals a year, the peal reports must be of interest to a large majority of your readers.

The same conclusion can be obtained from the figures they have produced as follows. These show that the 235 ringers who rang 25 or more peals have scored a total of 10,491 individual performances. The average is 44.7 peals each. If we suppose the average band for a peal numbers halfway between 6 and 12, i.e. 9 (and ignore the fact that some peals were "in hand"), the 235 ringers make up 235/9=26.1 bands, which at 44.7 peals each could ring a total of 1,167 peals.

So we have shown that in the thousands of peals rung in a year, the leading peal ringers have accounted between them for the space occupied by about a thousand peals in the reports. Therefore, of the total number of peals rung, the great majority are rung by people who score fewer than 25 in a year.

I suggest that this clearly shows that the peal columns are not merely of interest to those who ring large numbers of peals, but to the Exercise in general.—Yours faithfully,

R. J. COOK.

Beddington, Surrey.

SILENCERS

Dear Sir,—Regarding the use of silencers in Barry Couzens' article, we at All Hallows', Twickenham, use wooden bars to hold the clapper central. These are hinged at one end, made to drop over the lip of the bell and then held together at the other end with a simple window sash clamp. This has the advantage when the bell is up that there are no loose pieces (nuts or bolts) to fall inside the bell.

Perhaps a better method still is that invented, I believe, by Geoff Dodds, of St. Albans, of using pieces of old car tyres. This enables the muffled striking to be heard.—Yours sincerely,

ANNE HORSFORD.

Twickenham.

165 METHODS PEAL RECORDING

Dear Sir,—Mr. James R. Taylor has compiled a tape recording lasting 30 minutes with extracts ranging from 14 to 165 methods from our recent peal series. Anyone interested in obtaining a copy should contact him at 15, Greenacre Road, Whitechurch, Bristol 15, to make arrangements. For those with more time to spare, Peter Bridle has three complete peals recorded plus extracts from others.

In reply to Mr. Cribley, may I point out that we have never kept any of our attempts secret and, judging from the ringers who have turned up to listen to some of these attempts, the news has circulated quite well without taking up valuable space in compiling lists of future attempts in "The Ringing World."—Yours faithfully,

ANTHONY R. PEAKE.

MANCROFT GUILD

The annual general meeting of the Guild was held on March 20th and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Ringing Master, Dr. D. Heighton; Deputy Ringing Master, Mr. M. Cubitt; secretary/treasurer, Mr. D. P. Mortlock; steeplekeeper, Mr. C. Bird.

SINGLES IN SURPRISE

Dear Sir,—Mr. T. J. Lock is not quite right when he says that the St. Martin's Guild were the first to introduce the single into Surprise; a peal of 5,090 Cambridge Surprise Major was rung on January 18th, 1947, at St. Michael's, Southampton, using a single in the same way as in Surprise Maximus. The composition, by Mr. Brian D. Price, keeps the tenors together throughout and is a useful alternative to Middleton's, though no improvement on it.

However, it seems that Mr. Price was not the first to explore the possibilities of using a single in Cambridge Major in this way, for in the report of the Central Council meeting for 1948 Mr. H. G. Cashmore disclosed that he had produced two peals, a 5,058 and a 5,090, some 15 years previously. At the time Mr. Cashmore was seeking to produce something which would have been an advance, musically, on Middleton's, but he subsequently realised that all the composition, except the last two rows, would have had to be contained in the orthodox 25 courses, and no improvement would therefore be obtainable with the single in that position. He went on: "Having failed in what I set out to achieve I threw the figures into the fire and I think Mr. Price would have been well advised to have done the same with his, not because he had used a single, but because the peal was no advance on Middleton's."

Happily for us, Mr. Price did not throw his figures in the fire and the peal has been rung a few times since. It seems a pity, therefore, that Mr. Cashmore's two compositions were not published as the variety of compositions of Cambridge Major with the tenors together is very limited.

Whether any improvement on Middleton's is obtainable by using a greater number of singles is an interesting question which perhaps one of your readers could answer.

I append Mr. Price's composition for those who may be interested.—Yours faithfully,

Cove, Hants. ROBERT C. KIPPIN.

RINGERS IN TWO CATEGORIES

Dear Sir,—Whether or not it was his intention, Mr. H. I. F. Muncey's critical comparison of peal ringers against service ringers does give one the impression that, broadly, he supposes all ringers fall into one category or the other. This point of view is not new. It has been brought out in letters to you, sir, on previous occasions.

I have often wondered, with some concern, why attempts are made, from time to time, to divide us in this way. It is certainly true that some of us ring regularly for service and some of us, unfortunately, do not, but it is equally certainly untrue that those who do not are mainly peal ringers.—Yours faithfully,

KENNETH LAWSON.

MR. DOUGLAS BURNETT
(the retiring Master)

TRURO GUILD HAS A NEW MASTER

The peal secretary, Miss Marion Lidgley, reported on the 12 peals rung during 1966, of which four were by entirely local bands, and three ringers rang their first peals.

Mr. Boucher gave an account of the Central Council meeting at Bath and, on behalf of the librarian, Mr. Derek Trethewey, the chairman gave a brief account of the workings of the Guild library during its first year as a lending library.

The election of officers followed and Mr. Burnett took the chair to receive nominations for president. Mr. Carveth was elected to a further term of office and, as Mr. Burnett was not seeking re-election due to his imminent departure for a theological college, a new Master had to be elected. After considerable discussion Mr. Wilfred C. Boucher, of Launceston, and Mr. Anthony Locke, of Kea, were elected Master and Assistant Master respectively. The remaining officials were re-elected and Mr. Burnett was elected a vice-president.

MR. WILFRED C. BOUCHER
(the new Master)

THE 1967 annual general meeting of the Truro Diocesan Guild was held at St. Austell on March 4th and was attended by about 70 ringers. The president, Mr. Alan Carveth, opened the meeting by ringing the Guild bell and reading the objects of the Guild. Prayers were led by the Vicar of Kenwyn, the Rev. A. J. Vincent.

The treasurer, Mr. S. J. Robinson, reported balances of £48 in the general fund and £39 in the badge account, and the accounts were formally adopted.

NOT A CHANGE RINGING SOCIETY

In his Ringing Master's report, Mr. Douglas Burnett remarked that the Truro Guild was a Diocesan Guild and not a change ringing society containing rounds ringers, call change ringers and change ringers. Fortunately the Guild was big enough to include these differing types of ringers and to try to unite them in one cause for the Church. It was the responsibility, he maintained, of the Guild officers to hold the interests of these types of ringers and he realised that this was no small job. The duties of the Master of the Guild were not laid down and for the benefit of his successor Mr. Burnett gave an account of the many varied duties he had been asked to perform, including attending meetings, lecturing, recommending a tower for Christmas broadcasting as well as being expected to have a good knowledge of bellringing, trends in prices of installations, etc., ringing weights and times and being able to ring with all types of ringers. During his 13 years as Master he had worked with one president, one treasurer, one Assistant Ringing Master and three secretaries, all of whom he thanked for the support they had given him over that time. To his successor he wished him well, and to the members of the Guild he trusted they would back up the new man as they had backed him up.

LOSS TO LAUNCESTON

The Assistant Ringing Master, Mr. Wilfred Boucher reported the loss by death of Horace Hicks, who was the Launceston Branch secretary and whose place was being taken by Mr. W. F. Moss. One of the highlights of the year in the northern end of the Guild was the peal of Grandsire Triples at St. Mary's, Launceston, in honour of Mr. A. Wroth's 60 years as a ringer.

A GUILD DINNER

The meeting then discussed the recommendations of a Standing Committee. The Report Sub-Committee was given discretionary power over the recommendation to alter the mode of distribution of the reports but the meeting approved the suggestions to chase up the towers whose subscriptions were not properly paid, and also to hold a Guild Dinner to mark the 70th anniversary of the Guild's formation, this to be held at the Red Lion Hotel, Truro, on October 14th, and Mr. Harry Miles suggested a service be held during the afternoon.

It was decided to hold the Summer Festival at Stratton on July 8th (if convenient) and the 1968 annual general meeting at Launceston on March 2nd.

Under the generous heading of any other business, several matters were dealt with. Silent tribute was paid to the members who had died since the last meeting—Canon F. Boreham, H. Hicks and P. Spargo. The elections during 1966 of the following non-resident life members were confirmed: J. H. Taylor, J. P. Coad, P. J. Daniel, J. C. Mitchellmore and R. H. Jones. A letter from Mr. G. W. Pipe of "The Ringing World" Committee asking for front page photograph material for "The Ringing World" was read to the meeting, and the chairman urged members to comply.

Mr. Burnett was presented with a brief case and a book token by the president on behalf of the Guild, and appreciation of his work for the Guild and well-wishing for his future were expressed by the chairman and Mr. H. Lander, who for many years had worked closely with him in the Mid-Cornwall Branch.

The meeting was then closed and followed by tea, for which the St. Austell people were thanked by Mr. Locke. After which the bells of St. Austell, St. Mewan, Luxulyan, St. Stephen in Brannel and St. Dennis were put to good use.

Mr. Ernest Warner, of Woking, has had to give up ringing and has resigned his membership of Holy Trinity, Guildford, Society. During his nine years with the Society he has proved to be a popular and co-operative member.

"KNOW YOUR PLAIN BOB MINOR"

By N. CHADDOCK

Answer these questions on a separate sheet of paper, then check your total score.

- Write down the sequence of the dodges as they occur after 2nds place over treble has been made.
- Write down which of the following is correct: "In Plain Bob, treble is met one place sooner after each dodge." "In Plain Bob treble is met one place later after each dodge."
- In what place when hunting down is treble met (or struck over) after the following dodges. Say also at what stroke you strike this blow over the treble: (a) 3-4 down, (b) 3-4 up, (c) 5-6 down, (d) 5-6 up.
- What dodge do you do after striking over treble (when hunting up) in the following places: (a) 6ths, (b) 3rds, (c) 5ths, (d) 4ths.
- How many changes in (a) one "treble lead" of Bob Minor? (b) How many leads in a plain course? (c) How many changes in a plain course?
- When treble leads at backstroke what are all the bells (except one) doing?
- What is the sequence in which the bells come to lead in Bob Minor? (a) disregard treble, (b) What is the sequence called?
- Write out a course of Plain Bob Minor, one bell at a time.
- (a) What dodge puts you into 4ths place at treble's backstroke lead, (b) into 3rds place, (c) into 6ths place, (d) into 5ths place?
- (a) What will be the first dodge of No. 6 bell in a plain course, (b) of No. 2 bell, (c) of No. 4 bell, (d) of No. 5 bell, (e) of No. 3 bell?
- What do we mean by course bell? Is it (a) the treble, (b) the bell that takes us off lead, (c) the bell over which you strike your first blow in 6ths? Where else do you strike over her?
- In a plain course, which bell is No. 2's course bell?
- Which bell courses after No. 6?
- If, for one lead, you course the treble, what dodge do you do in that lead?
- When starting the course of Bob Minor, which three bells start by hunting up and which 3 by hunting down?
- Can the following two change rows be consecutive ones in Bob Minor:
3 1 5 2 6 4
1 3 2 6 5 4
- If not, why not?
- When hunting up or down, what must you always do all the time, in addition to looking and listening?
- If we call the time interval between the two consecutive bells in one change row a "beat," (a) How many beats between your own bell striking in 2nds and then in 3rds, when hunting up at handstroke with open leads, (b) at backstroke, (c) when hunting down at handstroke, (d) when hunting down at backstroke?
- Write out a course of Bob Minor by the places you strike in, thus: 1, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, (6), 6, 5, 4, 3, [4] (3), 2, 1, 1, 2, 3, 4, etc., to the end.
- Now ring those blows which are over treble, and box in those which are dodges, as shown.
- Which blows are quick ones, hunting up or hunting down?
- Another name for hunting up is hunting
- Another name for hunting down is hunting
- If we make a 2nd consecutive blow in the same place we are said to be that place.
- To lead means to strike in place.
- To lie means to strike another blow in place.

LONDON COUNTY ASSN. DINNER

THE London County Association dinner, held at the Chatham Rooms, Victoria, and presided over by the Master, Mr. H. W. Rogers, on February 25th, proved to be an extremely successful function. In welcoming all members and friends, the Master referred to various groups and individuals.

Firstly, all those young people who had entered the Exercise since the war. Secondly, all those "young" pre-war stalwarts who were present and who, with others of similar calibre, had been the backbone of the Association for so many years. The bright future of the Association lay in the hands of these two groups: the first to provide enthusiasm and new ideas, and the second to provide the mature and tolerant influences so necessary to the success of the products of youthful enthusiasm. They did not necessarily want "the mixture as before" for 1967, but the best of the old spliced to the new ideals. With them that evening were two recent Past Masters of the Ancient Society and, as was expected, three Past Masters of the L.C.A.

After making suitable references to achieving a genuine 1967 interpretation of the objects of the Association generally as outlined in the recent "R.W." report of the Association's annual meeting, the Master talked of the need for the influence of the Association to extend to all quarters of its territory and to do all possible, in harmony with the overlapping Associations, to strengthen the weaker towers. In this connection he was very pleased to have Dennis Hewitt as his Deputy Master and he felt quite certain that he would make sure that no aspect of East London was overlooked.

After doing their work well, the members were entitled to their fun, and since the fun of peal ringing had a direct plus of improving the standard of participants for Sunday service and other general ringing, he hoped that a good number of peals would be rung during the year. Both himself and the Deputy Master would like to hear from ringers who would like to take part in these.

A West London singing group, led by Ian Cooper, entertained and, judging by the applause was greatly appreciated. Other activities were a guitar recital by Tony Caldwell and handbell ringing by members.

- If you have made 3rds at a single, what will you do next lead if a bob is called?
- When making 4ths at a single, what is the bell over which you strike these two blows in 4ths doing?
- If you make 3rds at a single, are these two blows over the same bell or a different one? At what strokes are these two blows in 3rds—hand and back, or back and hand?

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN

Long Ashton was chosen for the quarterly meeting of the Chew Branch on March 18th, and various methods were rung before the well struck touch of Stedman Triples which preceded the service.

The Vicar the Rev. I. F. Westmacott, welcomed those present, after which the company adjourned to a nearby church hall, where an excellent tea was enjoyed, prepared and served by ladies from the local band.

The chair was taken by Mr. H. W. Knight, who expressed regret at the illness of Mr. D. Yeo, the Branch secretary, and invited Mr. J. H. Gilbert to deputise for him. Mr. Horseman gave details of the striking competition to be held at Clapton-in-Gordano in May, to be judged by Mr. W. B. Kynard.

A welcome visitor was Mr. F. C. Mogford, of Pensford now making steady progress after his bad accident. Despite his two sticks, Cecil climbed the belfry stairs and took part in several touches.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Service touches and quarter peals rung at Lympne, Kent, during 1966 totalled 62,279 changes.

The quarter at Lyng, Somerset, on March 30th, is believed by the conductor to be the first on the bells.

Mr. W. H. Raxter, of Droitwich, completed his 100 peals with the peal at Hallow. Worcs (page 268). Congratulations!

The ringer of the tenor in the three-method peal of Doubles at Benhall, Suffolk, on January 23rd, 1967, was Harry Archer, and not Harry Draper, as submitted.

The peal at Christ Church, Oxford, on Saturday, March 11th, was rung as a farewell compliment to Henry and Elizabeth Rossell, who were leaving for Australia on April 5th.

The tower captain at Saxmundham, Mr. H. Archer, thanks the company at his tower who rang the bells for his daughter's wedding on Saturday, March 25th.

The peal of Minor at Potterspurty, Northants, on page 224, has been erroneously credited to the Oxford Diocesan Guild; it should read the Peterborough Diocesan Guild.

Mr. Arthur G. Mason rang in a peal of Stedman Cinques at Winchester Cathedral in honour of his 75th birthday. Happy birthday. There are still oysters in the month!

Mr. W. Shepherd, of Addlestone, has returned home from hospital and is assured by his doctor that if he goes very steadily there is every prospect of a return to normal health in the near future.

The peal in five Minor methods rung at Hinton Waldrist on March 4th was rung for the Oxford University Society, and not the Oxford Diocesan Guild as printed in "The Ringing World" of March 31st.

Mrs. Deborah Bishop calls attention to a slip by the sender of the quarter peal at Owslebury, Hants (page 218), calling her by her maiden name. She has been Deborah Bishop for the past six months.

His many friends in and around Leicester will be pleased to know that Mr. H. L. (Les) Wykes is making a satisfactory recovery from an appendix operation, after being rushed to the General Hospital early on Easter Sunday morning.

APPRENTICES TO THE RESCUE

The tenor bell in St. John the Baptist Church, Boddington, near Daventry, has been repaired and now runs smoothly, thanks to the good services of three apprentices at the British Timken works, Duston, Daventry.

An inspection of the bells revealed that the bearings of the 14 cwt. tenor were so badly worn that the bell had become almost immovable. In addition, the headstock and stay were infested with woodworm. An estimate for repairs was too costly for church funds.

The three apprentices undertook the repair in their normal training schedule. The bells were removed to the apprentices' workshop. Peter J. Gardner, a 20-year-old technician apprentice, with the full co-operation and approval of the technical dept., designed a new Timken bearing-equipped housing to replace the older bronze type.

The actual machinery and assembly of the housing was the work of Trevor Tulley, another 20-year-old apprentice, and Barry Bearman, a carpenter apprentice, shaped a new heavy oak headstock. The rehousing was done by the three apprentices.

Boddington has six bells but only five are used for change ringing.

This story is extracted from the works magazine of The British Timken Roller Bearing Company, Duston.

MR. C. F. WILLMINGTON IN HOSPITAL

For many months members of the Essex Association and Police Guild have watched the increasing immobility of Charlie Willmington, never ceasing to wonder at his courage, perseverance, and, above all, his cheerfulness—the inevitable reply to the question as to the state of his health always being "Not too bad."

Charlie is at present in Dressmakers Ward of the Middlesex Hospital, where last week the operation on one of his hips was performed. The information at the time of writing is that he is as well as can be expected and that recovery is following its natural course.

It is the sincere wish of everybody, Charlie, that this operation will be a complete success and that very soon you will be taking a rope for a service quarter—standing up. You tell 'm Charlie. Good luck. H. V. G.

NOW IN NORWICH

The best wishes of the local band and indeed of the Essex Association are extended to Andrew Salisbury as he leaves Hornchurch to take up an appointment on the mathematical staff of the Training College for Teachers at Norwich.

Andrew was taught to handle a bell by Fred Freestone way back in 1948 and, apart from the years in National Service, has been a loyal and regular member of the local band since—in fact, part of the local scene.

If we might be forgiven the cliché, the loss to Hornchurch is indeed the gain of Norwich, for with his ringing he has combined a high degree of churchmanship. Good luck, Andrew.

FORTHCOMING PEAL ATTEMPTS

CUPID AT BRISTOL

The report of the University of Bristol's dinner on January 21st is to hand this week. A capacity attendance of 200 was present in the Senior Common Room. Our correspondent writes: "The meal proceeded smoothly and during it the Master and the secretary rose to take wine with their predecessors in office."

They were followed by Cupid, that unique Society figure, resplendent in new wings and brandishing aloft his ceremonial bow and arrow who, after similarly taking wine, announced that he had to resign from his post. The presence of a certain young lady at the dinner had made it obvious to all and sundry that he no longer fulfilled one of the most important requirements of the tenure of the office, that of impartiality towards the charms of the female of the species. Cupid reported that he had had a negative success rate during his term of office, for in the two matches which he had initiated the cankerous worm had gnawed the young bloom of love, causing it to wither prematurely, and he reluctantly had to admit defeat.

Judging from the records of former Cupids this state of affairs must be almost unprecedented. Cupid IX nominated Mr. John Parsons as his successor, and wished that he might be more lucky in his efforts, and also avoid his own darts, which are known in the Society to have a distinct tendency to backfire! Mr. Parsons, reluctantly accepting the office, said he hoped that he would succeed in his task, and that he would not give Mr. Zobel as much trouble in this field as he had in another!

The Master, Nicholas Simon, told us that again the Society had gone from strength to strength. Only one member had left at the end of the last session and it was anticipated that he would be seen frequently in Bristol, as he retained a great interest in one member of the Society at least!

This year there was a very strong and loyal third year, and it was hoped that progress would be maintained when these people left, as numbers would be greatly depleted then. The Society had rung more peals than ever before recorded during the last academic year, including one of the record number of Minor methods for the Society. The bells of St. Michael's had been rung regularly for Sunday services, during the last year, but had been out of action for most of the first term of this year as the tower had been under repair. It was now restored. Practices were held regularly at Christ Church, and more recently had been held at St. Stephen's on the first Friday in each month. There had been two outings each term in different areas around Bristol, which had been most successful.

WOOTTON WAWEN DINNER

The annual Wootton Wawen bellringers' dinner was held at Stratford-on-Avon on March 11th, when 40 ringers and friends sat down to roast beef and horseradish sauce.

Wootton Wawen tower captain, Dr. A. Collings, expressed the delight of the company that Peter S. Bennett and Marion Pantone were to be married at Chelmsford Cathedral on April 1st. On behalf of the ringers from Wootton Wawen, Stratford-on-Avon and Henley-in-Arden he presented Peter Bennett with a clock and wished him and Marion every happiness and good fortune in their new life.

KEEPING THE EXERCISE ALIVE

Mr. W. B. Cartwright, as Master of the Worcestershire and Districts Association, comments on our journal in his notes attached to the 82nd annual report of the Association. He writes:

"I know there are quite a number of our members who do not take the paper and it is to them chiefly that I am writing. Whatever may be your reason for not taking 'The Ringing World' one must admit that if the Exercise is to be kept alive it needs some means of communication, some means whereby one tower knows what the other towers in different parts of the country are doing, and the only means of such communication is 'The Ringing World'."

"Where should we be if one morning we woke up and found we had no newspapers or wireless? We might not agree with all the paper contains, but we still buy it and read the stuff with which we don't agree, thereby ensuring its circulation, so let those who do not buy the paper make a belated New Year resolution to start at once. Only continued and increased support for 'The Ringing World' will ensure the success of the paper. Borrowing another chap's copy is not quite fair, is it?"

EAST DERBYSHIRE AND WEST

NOTTS ASSOCIATION

RINGERS from 18 towers attended the annual meeting on Easter Monday at Clay Cross. The very fine-toned six bells were put to good use in the afternoon. The usual ringers' service was held in church.

Some 46 ringers and friends attended tea and the business meeting, at which all officers were re-elected with the exception of the Central Council representative. It was unanimously decided that the present secretary (Mr. E. J. Sterland) should take up this post.

Swanwick ringers were presented with the Jubilee Shield, being the most progressive tower during the past year.

Ten new members were welcomed into the Association. Further ringing took place after the meeting until 9 p.m., with the bells half-muffled as a token of respect to the late Mr. J. W. Price, a ringer at this church, and past president and secretary of the Association, who had recently passed away. Also to the late Mr. Thomas Clarke, Past Ringing Master. The attendance at this was even better than at the afternoon session, many members being present from outlying districts at a very enjoyable meeting.

Next meeting: Heanor, April 15th. E. J. S.

TWO WEDDINGS AND A FUNERAL ON THE SAME AFTERNOON

Wentworth, Yorkshire, ringers had the unusual experience of ringing for two weddings and a funeral on the same afternoon. Ringing for the second wedding concluded at 2.50 p.m. and by 3.05 the bells were being raised half-muffled. The bridal party had not left the church grounds before the solemn, half-muffled ringing was heard for the funeral service of the 90-year-old Dowager Countess Fitzwilliam, who in her lifetime had been hostess to King George V at Wentworth Woodhouse.

AU REVOIR AT CHRISTCHURCH

The quarter peal rung at Christchurch Priory on March 9th was "au revoir" to Alan Price and Dick Prime. Alan's bank promotion has taken him to the St. Helier, C.I., Branch of the Midland Bank, and Dick has a new R.A.F. posting from Sopley to a station in Middlesex.

SOCIETY OF RAMBLING RINGERS
1967 TOUR
This will take place in S.E. England from July 22nd to August 6th.
The tour will be planned to fit wherever possible with the youth hostels.
The tour is arranged at the pace of a cyclist, but this should not deter people in mechanised transport from taking part.
May I warn all past and present members and those wishing to join that this may well be the last tour unless better support is forthcoming.
Those wishing to join should write at once; the tour has to be planned and cannot be until actual numbers taking part are known.
In the past we have been a very strong and able touring society. This must not die! I ask those who have been on tour to think again and to join this year's tour. It is also very important that the actual time that members can be on tour is known.
The subscription of 5s. is now due. Those wishing to join, and I hope there are many, please contact: R. Kingsley Mason, Hon. Sec., 446, Welford Road, Knighton, Leicester. 1306
